How the high-school choice should be made

This is the most important part for a student. If the student already knows the career he/she wants, the secondary-school pathway should be selected accordingly.

If the student wants ENGINEERING

Prefer:

BAC C / BAC E / BAC TI

or

GCE A/L Science/Technical with Mathematics + Physics and/or Chemistry

or

OSSD with university-preparation Mathematics + Physics/Chemistry where required

or

IB Mathematics + Physics/Chemistry

For example, the current ENSTP/engineering requirements explicitly include BAC C, D, E, F or TI and GCE A/L with Mathematics plus Physics or Chemistry for specified engineering routes.

If the student wants MEDICINE

Prefer:

BAC D / BAC C

or

GCE A/L Biology + Chemistry + preferably Physics/Mathematics

or

IB Biology + Chemistry + appropriate Mathematics

or

OSSD Biology + Chemistry + required university Mathematics

Typical university route:

Secondary → Medicine → specialization

Example:

BAC D → Medicine → Cardiology

or

GCE A/L Biology + Chemistry → Medicine → Surgery

 If the student wants COMPUTER SCIENCE / IT

Prefer:

BAC C / BAC TI / BAC E

or

GCE A/L Mathematics + Computer Science/Physics

or

OSSD Mathematics + Computer Science

or

IB Mathematics + Computer Science

The current ENSET Bambili requirements specifically show that Computer Science and ICT can accept BAC B/C/D/E or relevant technical qualifications, with specified mathematics/science/computer-subject combinations.

 If the student wants BUSINESS / ACCOUNTING / FINANCE

Prefer:

BAC B / G / Commercial

or

GCE A/L Economics + Accounting/Commercial subjects

or

OSSD Mathematics + Business/Economics

or

IB Economics + Business Management + Mathematics

Examples:

BAC B → Accounting → Accountant

BAC B → Finance → Financial Analyst

BAC B → Banking & Finance → Banker

BAC B → Business Administration → Entrepreneur

 If the student wants LAW

A student can generally come from:

BAC A, B, C or D

or

GCE A/L Arts or Science

or equivalent OSSD/IB/Cambridge qualifications.

The exact admission requirement depends on the university/programme. For example, the 2026 ENSET Bambili notice itself allows Law candidates from either science or arts backgrounds.

If the student wants JOURNALISM / COMMUNICATION / MEDIA

Prefer:

BAC A / B

or

GCE A/L Arts/Commercial

but students from science backgrounds can also enter many communication programmes.

Good university specialties include:

- Journalism
 - Mass Communication
 - Communication Studies
 - Public Relations
 - Digital Communication
 - Film & Television
 - Multimedia
 - Advertising

If the student wants TEACHING

The student should choose the high-school stream according to the subject he/she eventually wants to teach.

For example:

Desired teaching career	Secondary background
Mathematics teacher	C/D + Mathematics
Physics teacher	C/D + Physics
Chemistry teacher	C/D + Chemistry
Biology teacher	D + Biology

Computer Science teacher	C/TI + Computer Science
Economics teacher	B + Economics
Accounting teacher	B/G + Accounting
English teacher	A/Arts + English
French teacher	A/Arts + French
History teacher	A/Arts + History
Geography teacher	A/Arts/D + Geography

Very important: OSSD, IB and Cambridge

You should not create artificial “OSSD Series C/D/A” or “IB Series C/D/A.”

Instead:

System	What determines university eligibility?
Cameroon BAC	Series + subjects
GCE	A/L subjects + sometimes O/L requirements
OSSD	Grade 12 university-preparation courses and required prerequisites
IB Diploma	HL/SL subject combination and required subjects
Cambridge International	AS/A Level subjects
French Baccalauréat	Specialities/subject combination and university requirements

For example, a student targeting Computer Engineering should not simply ask “Which OSSD series?”
The better question is:

Which OSSD Grade 12 courses do I need for Computer Engineering?

Likewise for IB:

Which IB subjects should I choose for Computer Engineering?

This is important because international universities normally evaluate individual subjects, not just the name of the secondary-school diploma.
